MATCO mfg W50LN WHEELS & BRAKES STOP SPACESHIPONE ON SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF XPRIZE FLIGHT

October 4, 2004: For Immediate Release

MATCO mfg is excited to offer congratulations to the team at Scaled Composites for their successful flight to claim the XPRIZE. The flight today marks a milestone for manned space flight and fulfills the vision set out for the program more than three years ago. The space vehicle, SpaceShipOne, used a pair of specially modified MATCO wheels, brakes, and custom axles for the mission as it has for all of its flights. The team here at MATCO mfg is excited to have contributed to this landmark achievement at Scaled Composites and were especially gratified at the smooth landing, rollout, and stop at the completion of the flight!

We are proud of the support our products provided to the completion of the flight and look forward to the further conquests of space by Scaled Composites!
